

My Health Care Manager

Are your employees' aging loved ones affecting your business?

My Health Care Manager's Eldercare can help.

Senior care obligations can overwhelm your employees.

Many of today's working professionals are caring for senior loved ones. Hectic days in the lives of your employees can devastate their work performance.

Employees overwhelmed by senior care can hurt your business.

What begins as workday interruptions can lead to increased presenteeism, full days of absence and even resignation. Employees overwhelmed by senior care can have a costly effect on your company's bottom line.

My Health Care Manager's Eldercare can help your employees and your business.

Empower your portfolio with a benefit that helps your employees balance their senior care and work obligations. Increase productivity. Improve retention rates. Impact your bottom line.
